DETAILED ACTION

1. This communication is in response to the application filed July 13, 2001. Claims 1-73 have been examined in this case.

Information Disclosure Statement

2. The information disclosure statement (IDS) submitted on May 27, 2004 is in compliance with the provisions of 37 CFR 1.97. Accordingly, the examiner is considering the information disclosure statement.

Specification

3. The specification has not been checked to the extent necessary to determine the presence of all possible minor errors. Applicant's cooperation is requested in correcting any errors of which applicant may become aware in the specification.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 1-73 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Barzilai (US 6,012,045) in view of Friedland (US No: 6,449,601).
6. As per claims 1- 73 –
7. Barzilai teaches a method of preparing and presenting bid auction information in an auction(Abstract)(Figs 1-10)(col 2 line 20-co13 line 3) with a products marketplace (Fig 5). Barzilai also teaches compiling a bid table (Fig 6B/346)(col 16 lines 50-60) of accepted and rejected bids (col 13 lines 30-50) and posting the top bids in the bid chart(Fig 6B/356) as well as a website introduction screen(homepage)(Fig 2 and interactive activity with rules, bids and/or offers (Fig 2) as well as encrypting the member's (participant's) ID (Fig 3/132) as well as setting opening and closing dates for the auction (Fig 4A) and confirming sales with top bidders through e-mail (Fig 4B/220) and voice communications as well as sales displays and images (Fig 10). Barzilai further teaches a merchandise showroom (Fig 5) and a bidding process for the items in the showroom (Fig 6A) as well as a tabulation of the member's account activity (Fig 7).

8. Friedland teaches filtering (Fig 15/1504/1506) (col 17 line 3-col 18 line 3) as well as state transitions of live and silent auctions (Fig 2)(Fig 1) and client registration protocols (Fig 5) and category and inventory selection (Fig 7) as well as status messages (Fig 10) and bid messages (Fig 11). Friedland further teaches updating the auction screen (Fig 13/1310) in the client real time auction and checking user for authorization (Fig 15/1516) as well as bid submission (Fig 19) and auction termination (Fig 22) as well as flash text (Fig 9).

9. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to combine Barzilai in view of Friedland and to apply these specifically to services to teach applicant's disclosure. The motivation to combine is to teach an electronic auction with bidders that brings the time efficiency of a live auction to remote bidders over the Internet as enunciated by Friedland (col 3 lines 64-66).

10. Examiner's note: Examiner has cited particular columns and line numbers in the references as applied to the claims above for the convenience of the applicant.

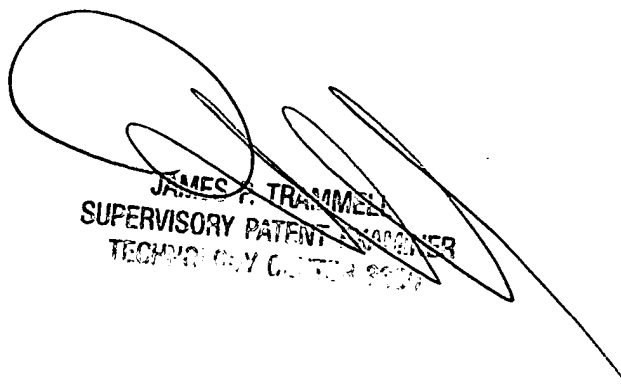

Although the specified citations are representative of the teachings in the art and are applied to the specific limitations within the individual claim, other passages and figures may be applied as well. It is respectfully requested from the applicant, in preparing the responses, to fully consider the references in entirety as potentially teaching all or part of the claimed invention as well as the context of the passage as taught by the prior art or disclosed by the examiner.
